Hawkair

HISTORY

Hawkair was founded in 1994 as a remote area cargo service airline. In those days, Hawkair flew mining equipment to isolated Goldmine sites in Northern BC. In 2000, sensing that opportunity existed within the passenger airline industry in British Columbia, the company transformed itself into a passenger service with the leasing of its first Dash-8 aircraft in August 2000. One month later, the Hawkair was flying scheduled service between Terrace and Vancouver. Over the past five years the company has expanded its route network to six cities and operates a fleet of 37-seat DeHavilland Dash-8 aircraft.

The founders of Hawkair have modeled their airline after the low-cost, short-haul beginnings of Westjet and Southwest airlines.

SERVICES

Hawkair offers mid-large (37 – 50 passenger) air transport boasting:

- Ability to access unprepared Northern airstrips
- Stand-up headroom and flight attendants
- On-board lavatory
- Aircraft availability 24 hours per day, seven days a week
